Company: Opendoor

Location: India

Category: computer-and-mathematical

Role Responsibilities :

As a Software Engineer on the team you will:

Own and drive all phases of software development including ideation, prototyping, design and production

Participate and guide the team's technical strategies, vision, decisions and architecture

Solve a breadth of technical problems involving large scale distributed system and platform build outs

Influence the technology and architectural roadmap of the organization

Play an active role in hiring and mentoring other engineers

Skills Needed:

Bachelor's or Master's degree in Computer Science, Engineering or related field, or equivalent training, fellowship, or work experience

A track record of approximately 5+ years of solving platform-level problems for multiple teams across the stack by building and delivering production quality software systems

Proven expertise in Ruby on Rails, NodeJS or Golang. Ideally 5+ years of full-stack development experience designing, building, testing and deploying production-grade software using these technologies

Strong engineering fundamentals: we value transferable experience writing & debugging code, scaling existing services, and designing/architecting software systems.

Excellent communication skills: Clear written and oral communication is important to our ability to operate as a remote team and in building our relationship with our cross-functional partners
